Stop Reading, Start Doing Pushups

Destroy Rebuild Until God Shows

Listen up, you've wasted your time
And wasting mine, failing to be somebody
You want to be forgotten, cut like the rest
Or do you want to stand up and fucking be somebody?
Yeah, so tell me what it's like
To have lived without moving an inch?
And had you up enough to stay
We just talk but never live
You laugh at me then you laugh at them
But I laugh at you 'cause
You're just the same, the same
I may have, I may have
More sensitivity than talents
But I, I will be the king of my world
And thank god that I'll never be you
So tell me how it feels to see me?
I am all you want to be
Can you control your defeat?
You know you love the tragedy
We laugh at you then we laugh at them
Then you laugh at me 'cause
We're all the same, the same
I may have, I may have
More sensitivity than talent
But I, I will be the king of my world
I think you forgot that I'll never be you
I'll never be you
I'll never be you
I'll never be you
