A Little Too Late

Brian Mcknight

Forever was shorter than what I was thinkin'
Now, all we have left is yesterday
I guess I wasn't what you wanted
'Til you saw me turn and walk awayBut still you had me feeling small when I'm 6'4
Better with you, always coming up short
Tired of all the games you played
Funny how now you've got so much to say, to sayBut you never told me that you needed me
The way that you're telling me now
You never told me that you missed me
'Til you saw me breaking up
You never told me that you love me, ooh
Sorry for what I'm 'bout to say
But you're just a little too lateWhat did I do? What was I thinkin'? Ooh
When I gave you my everything, my life
I forgot about me and I stopped listening
Looking back I can finally see the lightYou were happiest when I was all stressed out and losing hair
Reaching out for you and you didn't care
Tired of all the games you play
Funny how now you've got so much to say, to sayBut you never told me that you needed me
The way that you're telling me now
You never told me that you missed me
'Til you saw me breaking up
You never told me that you love me, ooh
Sorry for what I'm 'bout to say
But you're just a little too lateI know oh, why couldn't you tell me when I needed to hear it before
I know, there's not much left to say
This is heartbreak, oh, tell me why the hell would I want to try again
There's no way that we could still be friends 'cause you neverYou never told me that you needed me
The way that you're telling me now
You never told me that you missed me, oh no
'Til you saw me breaking up
You never told me that you love me, ooh
Sorry for what I'm 'bout to saySorry for what I'm 'bout to say
Sorry for what I'm 'bout to say
But you're just a little too late
But you're just a little too late

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/