Don't Look Now

Lunic

This is all i have Read between the lines
There is nothing left
I can't help you find yourself
If you don't look now you will never find the way to the happiness you craveYou are not alone
We all need a change
The void inside you has grown
Why are we afraid of what we could be?
If you don't look now you will never find the way to that happiness you craveSnow is falling down
A new season has passed
Still the same old town
Who will calm the sadness in your blue eyes?
If you don't look now you will never find the way to the happiness you craveWhat could you do? Where could you go?
What could you be? What could you know?
Who could you teach? Who could you reach?
What could you make? What could you change?
What could you change?What have I become?
Falling through the cracks
A life that's left undone
I can't get it back

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/