Running Man

Erb N Dub

Waiting up all night, something on my mind
I need to tell you why, whoa
He's playing you for a fool, he's fooling 'round on you
And I just lost my cool, feeling so sad
Too bad for the running man
'Cause he waits too long so he can't come back again
Too bad for the running man
'Cause I'm right here waiting to make that girl forget
Too bad for the running man, goodbye
Life isn't what it seems, something in a dream
That's not quite what I mean, ooh, whoa, yeah
I need to say goodbye, you think I didn't try
I'm not that other guy, I'm feeling so sad
Too bad for the running man
'Cause he waits too long so he can't come back again
Too bad for the running man
'Cause I'm right here waiting to help that girl forget
Too bad for the running man, goodbye

It?s too bad for the running man
'Cause he waits too long so he can't come back again
Too bad for the running man
'Cause I'm right here waiting to help that girl forget
Too bad for the running man, goodbye
Goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad, it?s too bad
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad, it's too bad
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad for the running man
It's too bad, it's too bad
