

The Moment You Believe

Melanie C

Time to face what you are hiding from, don't have to do this on your own, together we are strong,
we don't need anyone,
no matter what they say, the time has come

I'm ready now to start a new beginning, with all our hopes and all our dreams and I know the stars will shine for you and for me from the moment you believe

I know they think that Iâ'm not good for you but we both know that theyâ're wrong together we can fight show everyone we're right I don't care what they say, our time has come

I'm ready now to start a new beginning
with all our hopes and all our dreams

When you believe there's nothing you can't overcome
When you believe the earth is brighter than the sun

I believe
(When you believe there's nothing you can't overcome)

I'm ready now to start a new beginning
with all our hopes and all our dreams
