Cocooned

Julia Fordham

Cocooned, cocooned, am I by your love
Cocooned, so soon am I?
I do, my best, not to forget my
Promise to not get cocoonedBut it isn't all that easy sticking to my theory
That life is a straight and single road
And even more alarming when no one is disarming
That I'm wondering, if I amCocooned, cocooned, happy I've chosen
To let myself so soon
Get all caught up and safely woven
Promise to keep me cocoonedBut it isn't all that easy sticking to my theory
That life is a straight single road
And even more alarming when half the world is starving
With that I'm, I'm wondering, if I amCocooned
Promise to keep me cocooned
