Goodbye

Goodbye

Goodbye

November 10th, a cold dark night

You could feel that something wasn't right

That night many hearts did cry

When we learned we had to say goodbye

All embraced under one common song

The body is dead but life lives on

All embraced under one common song

The body is dead but life lives on

Goodbye, Steven

Goodbye, you friend

You were so young

You were so young

Goodbye, Steven

Goodbye, you friend

You were so young

The cars lined the streets

As it was coming to an end

The sun shined so brightly

The day we buried our friend

All embraced under one common song

The body is dead but life lives on

All embraced under one common song

The body is dead but life lives on

Goodbye, Steven

Goodbye, you friend

You were so young

You were so young

Goodbye, Steven

Goodbye, you friend

You were so young

You were so young

Losing in the fall, lost innocence came down

An 18 year old boy was buried in the ground

A family's broken hearts, a friend's streaming tears

The light lost in death, the living's growing fears

Of eternal darkness or is it spiritual light

To come with terms with death on the darkest night
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
A brother lost a brother, a friend lost a friend
A mother lost a son but Steven's soul will never end
November 10th, a cold dark night
You could feel that something wasn't right
That night many hearts did cry
When we learned we had to say goodbye
