The Sound of Believer

And One

the lights went down as time seemed right somebody's tongue
somebody's bite disappointed virginity
and a priest of joy drowned his blame in the sea until they broke their law she only open the doorthe sound of believer the rain in her heart
bring love to a pleaser denied from the startthe darkest cell the hardest node strangled by an endless cord she carved his name into the wall before as long as people scared of themselves no one will care about youth the louder your screams the faster their dreams come truethe sound of believer
denied from the startthe greatest deceiver the only who blames youngsters in chainsthe greatest deceiver
the only who blames youngsters in chainsthe sound of believer the rain in her heartthe sound of believer
denied from the startthe sound of believerthe sound of believer
