Natural Born Chaos

Soilwork

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Don't you ever try to Solve a problem in distress
The infected smile upon your face
Looks so Godly in this messShut down all your dreams
Confess, you're released
You know what I mean
Can't stop this strangulation aloneWait for chaos, wait for welfare
At this point of no return
Bleed for money, bleed for justice
Going straight to Hell with a wounded soulReachin' out for a solid soul
Of compassion and excitement
Do I dare to trust my faith right now
As it fools my mind somehow?Reborn once again
Erase and repent
You know what I meanSaved, buildin' up a fate on your own
Now you're saved, never seem to care awhile
They're watching you
Pay, pay for your sins on your own
Pay, lie to yourself while you're getting lowWait for chaos, wait for welfare
At this point of no return
Bleed for money, bleed for justice
Going straight to hell with a wounded soulDon't you ever try to satisfy your needs
With a deeper thought if you do or please
If you do or pleaseShut down all your dreams
Confess, you're relieved
You lie to yourself
Your pride goes before a fallSaved, buildin' up a fate on your own
Now your saved, never seem to care awhile
They're watching you
Pay, pay for your sins on your own
Pay, lie to yourself while you're getting lowWait for chaos, wait for welfare
At this point of no return

Bleed for money, bleed for justice
Going straight to Hell with a wounded soulWait for chaos, wait for welfare
At this point of no return
Bleed for money, bleed for justice
Going straight to Hell with a wounded soul
