My Soul Pleads For You

Simon Webbe

Oh yeh yeh, oh oh, heyThere's a place I've never been
A place I long to be
Will I reach? I just don't know
Still I hope one day I'll go, heyMy wish just never seems to come, yeh
I know for certain you're the one, yeh
So close I get, still no cigar
Carrying my wounded heart, yehI can't stop the river from running, I can't, I can't
I can't stop the rain from falling down on me, oh no no
I know I'm not what you want
I'm hoping in time you'll see how
My soul pleads for youNot every time you meet someone and
You both just click in a minute
Baby it's the eye contact, smile like that
Click click and you're rolling
Can't stop calling you, I don't know what to do
Baby you're making me break down all of my rules, yehI can't stop the river from running, (I can't stop the river from running)
I can't stop the rain from falling down on me, oh no no
I know I'm not what you want
I'm hoping in time you'll see how
My soul pleads for you, yeh, yeh, yehNow I can believe you've put a spell on me
Oh it's the way it seems, I can't keep you out my dreams
Oh I get chills baby, when I can't talk to you
I'm in pain and I hope you feel the way I doI can't stop the river from running, (I can't stop the river from running)
I can't stop the rain from falling down on me, oh no no
I know I'm not what you want
I'm hoping in time you'll see how
My soul pleads for you, yeh, yeh, yehI know for certain you're the one baby
So close, and no cigar
I carry this, my wounded heart
So close but yet so farChorus until fade
