

Caught In The Act

Miles Kane

Blown my final fuse
That's the electric in you
That keeps on burning,
Keeps on tripping out

The longer it goes,
The harder I know
A change is coming,
A change is coming fast

The whole time I've been gone
I thought you were alone
You were caught in the act
You were playing away
From home

Breaking in, no way out
Well I'm looking for a loophole
But it feels like I'm spinning out,
When I caught you in the act

Got home early from work
To find you doing worse
But why did you do it?
Why did you push me too far?

Uncharted territory, escaping me
It's bowled me over, it's cold and Plain to see

The way I found out
Your laziness let you down
You were spreading yourself
About the town
The worst that you could do,
After all you put me through
I it worth cracking up over you?
