

You've Already Died

Dead to Fall

Holding on to the past while the future slips you by
The past like the present is just another lie
Holding on to the past while the future slips you by
The past like the present is just another lie This is the only chance we will ever get
So make the most of it, live life with no regrets
This is the only chance we will ever get
So make the most of it, live life with no regrets Live life while you can or life will pass you by
If you've already given in, then you've already died
Live life while you can or life will pass you by
If you've already given in, then you've already died You've already died
You've already died
You've already died
You've already died No turning back
No giving in
No turning back
No giving in Holding on to the past while the future slips you by
The past like the present is just another lie
Live life while you can or life will pass you by
If you've already given in, then you've already died You've already died
You've already died
You've already died
You've already died

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>