

Dalia (feat. Haifa Kamal)

Jaafar

In the variable air of Arabia
Felt the rise of a wayward breeze
Whisper music of Mesopotamia

it lead me towards her I saw a girl shed a tear for Arabia
Saw the kohl trickle down her cheek

She was still the most beautiful stranger I ever had seen And i have roamed across the earth
but i have yet to find eyes like Dalia's Ø§Ø¹Ø'Ù, Ø¹Ø±Ø·ÙŠÙ‡

I've been to Seville, Adelaide, Seoul and Bahia

Still I haven't seen eyes like Dalia's Dum-taka-dum goes the drum in Arabia

In the night as the children cheer
All the men sing a 'leila ya leila'
And the women a 'weili ya weil'
Telling tales of beloved Arabia
Firelight flickered on her skin
Serenading 'ah leila ya leila'

To the cries of 'ah weili ya weil' And i have roamed across the earth

but i have yet to find eyes like Dalia's Ø§Ø¹Ø'Ù, Ø¹Ø±Ø·ÙŠÙ‡

I've been to Barranquilla, Las Vegas and Sicilia

Still I haven't seen eyes like Dalia's
