

Better Left Alone

All New Atmosphere

Let's keep our distance, lets keep our distance
Dont bother knocking when you're here
Dont bother texting when you're here
Dont bother calling when you're here
I'll sneak out the back door
You're focus on my voice has got you off of everything else
I could've sworn you would have forgotten this by now
Only moving on is what will keep you breathing
While I walk the other way and keep on singing
Can you feel this now, can you feel this now?
The absence of my love
Dont bother knocking when you're here
Dont bother texting when you're here
Dont bother calling when you're here
I'll sneak out the back door
Invading space you think youve got me all fixed and figured out
I could've sworn I would have escaped from this by now
You can move along but you wont keep on living
I can run around the world and keep on singing
Can you feel this now, can you feel this now?
The absence of my love
The trails behind me that I leave
Will never be a part of me (Let's keep our distance)
Youve followed footsteps that I've shed
Into the middle of nowhere (Let's keep our distance)
