

Moon and Back

Read Southall

I still remember ole bitter creek
Had a hand full of daisy
Drove out in the sand won't you be with me
ANd you said yes

I still remember your daddy's jeep
You'd slide right in there next to me
You weren't very good at a five speed
So i told you

So why did you leave
Cause it don't make no sense to me

My friends say I'm still a good time
Women still say I can dance
And my daddy's still my best friend
And I still starch my shirts and pants
I still believe in the word of god
And I'm still chasing all our plans
In my eyes you're still that shade of blue
I still got calluses on my hands
And my hair's still long and shaggy
And I still love to play guitar
Said you love everything about me
Guess the moon and back
It ain't that far
It ain't that far

Lay and stare at the ceiling while Living pretty ???
Now you're gone I'd do just about anything that I want to Buddies love having me around
Hiding pain from the whole damn town
But the truth it always will be
That I miss you

So why did you leave?
Guess the moon and back is far enough for me

My friends say I'm still a good time

Women still say I can dance
And my daddy's still my best friend
And I still starch my shirt and pants
I still believe in the word of God
And I'm still chasing all our plans
In my eyes you're still that shade of blue
I still got calluses on my hand
And my hair's still long and shaggy
And I still love to play guitar
Said you love everything about me
Guess the moon and back
It ain't that far
It ain't that far

It ain't that far
Guess the moon and back
It ain't that far

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>