

Shes Not Me

Madonna

She doesn't love you, like I do
She doesn't have my name
How ever she tries, to act like it
She'll never be the same
But she's new, and she's beautiful
You've never been in a fight
Oh yeah, It's awfully perfect now
But you just know deep insideShe's not me
she's not me
She's not me
Baby, she's not meDoes she make you feel wanted, like I did
Make you feel like you're the one thing that matters
You let her head rest on your chest, but when you close your eyes
You'll be seeing my face again
I'll be crossing your mind
You'll be dreaming of the places we went
And then you'll wake up to findThat she's not me
She's not me
She's not me
Remember, that she's not meOh, yeah
She's not me
