

Anything to Get Your Attention

Van Hunt

Anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention You don't come when I call
You act as if I don't, don't exist at all
I think there must be some, some trick to it
Some kinda, some kind of slick gimmick I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
Anything to get your attention Paint my face on your bedroom wall
Ill carve my name up and down the hall
There's just no way I can do without
Your love, baby, so don't tune me out Anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
Anything to get your attention I know I should be patient
I can't just take no waiting
Ambition is raging through my body My pride ain't worth saving
So, on every occasion
I'll be a fool for you, anything
Ooh, baby, baby, baby, baby, please I'll do anything to get your attention
See, I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention
I'll do anything to get your attention Everyday, I'll be dreaming of ways
To get your attention
I'll do anything
