Salvation

Dynazty

Music: Magnusson/Molin. Lyrics: Molin

In my time I have seen many things hard to believe
Is there an answer to this life we lead
We break before we bend as we struggle to defend
The little time we have until the end
Desperate callings in the wind tell words of wisdom can you hear
yet falling on deaf ears I fear
In the blink of an eye life will quickly pass you by
The hands of time we cannot defy

Salvation take me home
Until I can see the light, shining bright in front of me
My final destination here I come
I will live again, til I find my way

Iâ€™ve crossed all the seven seas.
Iâ€™ve watched and I know how it feels
To live and learn, to hate and love it burns your soul
Then in time you fade away
Like a flower you will wither and you will decay. Soon you will say
Iâ€™m just a fallen man, my end is at hand. Take me
End all my suffering, bring me peace again
End of the line, this is my final stand
This is my requiem

I was born into slavery
Chained to my own destiny
Now Iâ€™ll break these chains, end the pain and fly away
I will be set free, free from misery. Save me
I will live again, reborn without a chain
This is the life, the beginning is the end

Salvation take me home
Til I can see the light, shining bright in front of me
My final destination here I come
I will live again, til I find my way

In my time I have seen many things hard to believe
Is there an answer to this life we lead

We break before we bend as we struggle to defend
The little time we have until the end
Desperate callings in the wind tell words of wisdom can you hear
yet falling on deaf ears, I fear
In the blink of an eye life will quickly pass you by
The hands of time we cannot defy

Iâ€™ve crossed all the seven seas.
Iâ€™ve watched and I know how it feels
To live and learn, to hate and love it burns your soul
I was born into slavery
Chained to my own destiny
Now Iâ€™ll break these chains, end the pain and fly away

I am not afraid, I will live again. Take me
End all my suffering, bring me peace again
End of the line, this is my final stand

Salvation take me home
Til I can see the light, shining bright in front me
My final destination here I come
I will live again, til I find my way.
