Falling Down

Bebo Norman

Angel's on a subway
She's buried in a magazine
Stuck inside a replay
Of someone else's dreamProphets made of paper
Don't tell her anything
She wants something just to save her
So she lifts her head and screams
She lifts her head and screams"I don't know you but I love you anyway
I can't see you but I hope you're here to stay
I don't know you but I need you here with me
'Cause I'm falling down, falling down"Now angel's on a runway
Looking for a big jet plane
To take her to a new day
She won't be back again
She won't be back againShe says, "I don't know you but I love you anyway
I can't see you but I hope you're here to stay
I don't know you but I need you here with me
When I'm falling down, falling down"You're on my side
You're just in time
I'm on my way
Don't know who you are
But I want you back againI don't know you but I love you anyway
I can't see you but I know you're here to stay
I don't know you but I need you here with me
'Cause I'm falling down, falling downI don't know you but I love you anyway
I can't see you but I know you're here to stay
I don't know you but I know you're here for me
When I'm falling down, falling down
When I'm falling down, falling down
'Cause I'm falling down, falling down
