

Ocean Floor

The Bunny the Bear

You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason.
To bring a break through.
You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason. (These words rewind, fade over time)
To bring a break through. (Let's not forget this!)

Let's let our words define this situation every time
And everything you say can feed this black hole.
Let's let our words escape a congregation with no faith,
They're going strong on hatred and remorse.

You know it's gone to piss,
When all the black frames resemble nothing.
[x2]

You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason.
To bring a break through.
You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason. (These words rewind, fade over time)
To bring a break through. (Let's not forget this!)

Clear the trees, then you'll see through to me.
I'm rotting on the ocean floor,
Where seeds of grass abhor their situation.
Clear the trees, then you'll see through to me.
I'm rotting on the ocean,
And we both know you could never save me.

Cut off the lights...
Cut off the lights while singing!

You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason.
To bring a break through.
You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason. (These words rewind, fade over time)
To bring a break through. (Let's not forget this!)

You know I'm right here,
Waiting for you to give my life some reason. (Let's not forget this!)
To bring a break through. (Let's not forget this!)
