The Creed

MD.45

I'm broken and battered, I'm desperately searching
For faith to make sense of the fall
The questions keep coming, I'm all out of answers
It's like I can't breathe at all
But I find what I've lost when I look to the cross
For the truth, for the light guiding me
And I believe
That God is my Father
And Jesus Your son is living and breathing in me
I believe
Oh, Your spirit is with us giving hope and compassion
This is the creed, I will live it, I will believe
God hear the prayers of someone who needs You
Fill me with Your peace and grace
Help me to cling to the rock of the ages
Every promise, every world I'll embrace
You are my strength, the stream in the desert
You hold my life in Your arms
And I believe
That God is my Father
And Jesus Your son is living and breathing in me

I believe
Oh, Your spirit is with us giving hope and compassion
This is the Creed, I will live it, I will believe
Each day You bring a morning
Full of Your mercies, Your forgiveness
Full of life, brand new
And I believe
That God is my Father
And Jesus Your son is living and breathing in me
I believe
Oh, Your spirit is with us
Giving hope and compassion
This is the creed, I will live it, I will believe
And I believe
He died just to save us
From the cross to the grave, on the third day He rose
And He's coming again, I will live it till then

This is the creed, I will live it
This is the creed, I will live it, I will believe
