Do Unto Them

Threshold

[Bonus track]has it always been this way how could I let you fool me for so long has it always been this dark how could I see how could I find my way scratching the surface to see if I'm here if it's really me reaching out slowly to see if this world's got something to offer medo unto them as they do unto you you will find yourself again do unto them as they do unto you you will find yourselfthere's a reason here somewhere I just can't find it where can I go to now and it's all getting too much nobody's noticed nobody even cares scratching the surface to see if it's me if I'm really me
do unto them as they do unto you you will find yourselfdo unto them as they do unto you you will find it's not too late not too late at all to do anything you want to dodo unto them as they do unto you you will find yourself again do unto them as they do unto you you will find yourself
