

Empire State

&ME

 Been the crawl of a mountain
 Been a link in a chain
 I've been scolded for stealing
I've been told to behaveI've been reading the forecast
 Something's coming this way
 But it's taking forever
I'm too tired to maintain that I'm slowBeen a scratch on the surface
 I've been a clog in the drain
 I've been melodramatic
I've been sleeping for daysI've been one in a million
 I've been a million to one
 This is taking forever
It always seems to return that I'm slowAll hands up, salute the Empire State
 Faith be true, you know the way
 Ten feet tall in this, an empty space
Fallen walls all around destroyed again, destroyed againBeen digging to China
 I've been a fish in the sea
 I've been talking to Jesus
He's not talking to meI've been reading the forecast
 Something's coming this way
 But it's taking forever
I'm too tired to maintain that I'm slowAll hands up, salute the Empire State
 Faith is true, she knows the way
 Ten miles tall in this, an empty space
Fallen walls all around we'll build again, rebuild againBeen the crawl of a mountain
 Been a link in a chain
 Been scolded for stealing
 I've been carted away
