

God In My Bed (2meterssessies)

K's Choice

Before last night my heart was gray, like my country is today
Big kaleidoscope I see, a thousand people gaze at me
To break the ice I start to sing about a cell called everything
A cell so big a word like small is suitable to say it all Is the fighting over I lost track, like a wave it all comes back
Same kaleidoscope I see, someone standing next to me
It's hard to do, it's hard to try, hard to stop wondering why?
Do I keep filing every case, when the answer's on your face
You can't see her but you do, music is transparent too
So join me, sing with all your might, Hallelujah, praise tonight
Far away and long ago, wintertime meant feeling low
Now every single star looks bright, God was in my bed last night
