You're Speaking My Language

Juliette and the Licks

This one goes out to the entire world that's right
I know you think you know me better than that
I bit your dog 'cause he hit on my cat
I wipe my face off and keep your kisses back, babyYou're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, baby
You could be my RomeoAll the boys and all of the girls
Push it up, shake it up to the world
I wanna feed you like a bush of baby birds
Put your mind, make sure that you heardAnother week of less allowance you know
You think you're winning when you're winning to loseYou're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, babyI don't think you heard me
I know you think you know me better than that
I bit your dog 'cause he hit on my cat
I wipe my face off and keep your kisses back
Keep your trigger loaded, rockin' or rollin' all nightYou're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, babyYou're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, baby
You're speaking my language, babyYou're speaking, you're speaking
You're speaking, you're speaking
You're speaking, hey yeah
