

Let Me In Your Heart Again

Queen

When people talk of love I'll leave the conversation.

I say I feel just fine happy with my situation.

But when I look away people know my mind is straining

To where I once belong, dreaming about your heart again.(Your heart again, your heart again)

Let me in your heart again

(Listen to me honey)We like to face the blues,

I give you satisfaction (it's your heart again)

Despair was on your mind

I gave you the right direction (it's your heart again)So don't you walk away,

Remember is my heart you're breaking

You forget we were in love,

Now my heart is only filled with the pain(Your heart again, your heart again)

Let me in your heart againOh my love, I want you to stay

Don't leave me now or I just fade away

Oh my love don't hurt me this way

Oh look me baby, ohDon't make me wait too long or I'll lose my mind

When people talk of love,

I have no hesitation (it's your heart again)

Tell me what you dream at all

I'll hold a conversation for you babe (it's your heart again)But when I look away

People know my mind is straining

To where I once belong,

Just let me in your heart again(Your heart again)

Let me in your heart againOpen the doors for me babe.

It's your heart again. let me in
