Over The Mountains

Don Mclean

Anywhere in the world I go for you
I've made up my mind, I've packed my bags
I'm not returning home
Until someone will give me reason too
I lock the door and take a breath
I'm ready to let go, I know you're somewhere out there too
There's only one thing for me to do and I go
Over the mountains and over the sea
To find a heart that belongs to me
And anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere till I find you
I run through the valleys, I run through the fields
I'd do anything I am hard to please
And anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere till I find you
I fly like the wind, I don't know where
My heart will lead the way
I need someone to love and hold on to
But the road is long I've had my doubts
But nothing lets me down
'Cause I know you're somewhere out there too
Waiting for me to get to you and I go
Over the mountains and over the sea
To find a heart that belongs to me
And anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere till I find you
I run through the valleys, I run through the fields
I'd do anything I am hard to please
Anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere in the world I go for you
It doesn't matter what the time will tell
'Cause I will be here waiting
For you, for you and me
It doesn't matter what the others say
'Cause I will keep on searching
And I go and I go and I go and I go
Over the mountains and over the sea
To find a heart that belongs to me
And anywhere in the world I go

Anywhere till I find you
I run through the valleys, I run through the fields
I'd do anything I am hard to please
And anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere till I find you
Over the mountains and over the sea
To find a heart that belongs to me
And anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere till I find you
I run through the valleys, I run through the fields
I'd do anything I am hard to please
And anywhere in the world I go
Anywhere till I find you
