

Southern Smile

Cavo

With a southern smile she dont seem cold
Drive right through to a Midwest storm
Theres a broken heart across the field
Where the sun dont shine and the wounds wont heal
With a sober smile I cant sit still Gonna leave this life and you know I will
With all Ive lost and all I hold
Theres a need in me to lose control
Till I see you, but you dont see me
I bleed you, but you wont heal me
I scream you, but you dont hear me
I dreamed you, but you dont see me
Gonna cross that line, I wont look back
Gonna save myself from the things I lack
With all Ive lost and all Im told
Theres a need in me to lose control
