

Streetcar

Bob Crewe Generation

When there's a rub we can talk for a while
But I have sweet nothings to say
You don't need me anyway, you don't need me anyway
So why? Why should I stay?
So goodbye to you and your life
Your new best friends, your confidence
And I'll be here when you get home
Sitting half way away from no where
Praying for our lips to touch
Holding myself for a second
Just to catch a smile on this line
So goodbye to you and your life
(Two months, eight weeks)
Your new best friends, your confidence
(Turn my hours into days)
And I'll be here when you get home
(When you get home)
So goodbye to you and your life
(Two months, eight weeks)
Your new best friends, your confidence
(Turn my hours into days)
And I'll be here when you get home

When you get home
I can't feel the same about you anymore
I can't feel the same about you anymore
I can't feel the same about you anymore
It's just like you said it would be
(It's never easy)
I can't feel the same about you anymore
It's just like you said it would be
(It's never easy)
I can't feel the same, I can't feel this way
I can't feel the same about you anymore
(It's never too easy)
About you anymore
(It's never easy)
I can't feel this way
I can't feel the same about you anymore

(It's never too easy)
About you anymore
(It's never easy)
About you anymore

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>