Jean Claude Trans Am

Fenix Tx

And if I ever hurt you, you know I never meant to
So please don't hold it against me
But in the heat of passion I forget to sympathize with your virginity
How can I sit still every time you're near me
And how can I forget, you're always reminding me
All I need's a taste, you're such a terrible thing to waste
But I know you have your reasons
Well I'll wait for the day when I can hear you say
"Call me if you need some"
How can I sit still every time you're near me
And how can I forget, you're always reminding me
