

My Eyes Burn

Matchbook Romance

My eyes burn from these tears
You'd think I'd learn over these years
Good things won't last forever So what the hell am I supposed to do
You only wanted the things I couldn't give to you
And you had it all anyway So take take everything and leave me scrambling
Reaching for something that wasn't there in the first place So take take everything and leave me scrambling
Reaching for something that wasn't there in the first place Tell me I'm wrong when I say
I can't expect you to spend forever with me
I live for that single moment I take back everything I've said
You wore those words on your lips
As if they meant anything anyway Sometimes I feel I could drop off the face of the earth
It seems I do more harm than good
And I don't know if it's worth me losing sleep over this So take take everything and leave me scrambling
Reaching for something that wasn't there in the first place So take take everything and leave me scrambling
Reaching for something that wasn't there in the first place Tell me I'm wrong when I say it
I can't expect you to spend forever with me
I live for that single moment So take take everything and leave me scrambling
Reaching for something that wasn't there in the first place
