

Finally Made Me Happy

Various Artists

Bet you thought I'd die when you went away
Thought I'd get drunk when I saw those angels drift away
But things have changed, back in the day, begging you to stay
Now I can't wait to see your back and see you leaving today Baby, you finally made me happy when you walked out that door
Baby, you finally made me happy when you walked out that door
For all the times you made me cry, now all I feel is joy
And you finally made me happy, baby Walking through my door bringing jewelery and stacks
You tell me you'll give it all to me if I take you back
But I'm in my bedroom, baby, moaning, ooh baby That's my new lover under my bed hollering, uh, uh, uh Baby, you finally made me happy when you walked out that door
You finally made me happy when you walked out that door
For all the times you made me cry, now all I feel is joy
And you finally made me happy, baby, finally made me happy, baby! You finally made me happy when you walked out that door
Baby, you finally made me happy when you walked out that door
For all the times you made me cry, now all I feel is joy
And you finally made me happy, baby, finally made me happy, baby Finally made me happy
For all the times you made me cry, now all I feel is joy
And you finally made me happy, baby, finally made me happy, baby You finally made me happy
You finally made me happy
You finally made me happy, baby
