

Lost in the Translation

Trevor Morgan

There's a church down the street from me
Stuck in 1963
Where you're welcome to go in
If you've got the lightest skin
There's a preacher on my TV
Live from Washington D.C.
Preaching all that he's against
Like welfare and immigrants
Chorus:
Jesus said to love your neighbor
Every tribe and every nation
But somewhere down the line
Love got lost in the translation
I'm the king of naming names
And pointing out the blame
Oh, but now I finally see
That the problem starts with me
Chorus: There's now no condemnation
For all denominations
God, forgive us for we know not what we do
Chorus: Jesus said to love your neighbor
And He died for every nation
But somewhere down the line
Lost got lost in the translation
