

I Want to Come Over

Melissa Etheridge

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I know you're home
You left your light on
You know I'm here
The night is thin I know you're alone
I watched the car leave
Your lover is gone
Let me in Open your back door
I just need to touch you once more I want to come over
To hell with the consequence
You told me you loved me
That's all I believe I want to come over
It's a need I can't explain
To see you again
I want to come over I know your friend
You told her about me
She filled you with fear
Some kind of sin How can you turn
Denying the fire
Lover, I burn
Let me in Open your back door
I just need to touch you once more I want to come over
To hell with the consequence
You told me you loved me
That's all I believe I want to come over
It's a need I can't explain
To see you again
I want to come over I know you're confused
I know that you're shaken
You think we'll be lost
Once we begin I know you're weak
I know that you want me
Lover don't speak

Let me in I want to come over
To hell with the consequence
You told me you loved me
That's all I believe I want to come over
It's a need I can't explain
I want to come over
To see you, to see you again
