Ocean

A.Tone Da Priest

[Hook]
I got my flow in, thats ocean
All around the world, thats motion
If you never heard, get knowing
Cause this monster we made keep growing
[Verse 1]
International, we call it world music
The flow is the tide, you ride the wave dont lose it
I do abuse this skill that I have Cause with words its such power, the just grab you
Mad? Tell me why, were here to help you
An orator, reporter of everything felt through
The pulse of the nation, space, and the galaxy
The tell you something different about me, I say fallacy
I dont say bow to me, I aint royalty
But every track I land on, I do fuck up royally
My boiling point be rising, cause Im burning up
For certain bluntly put, Im Satan hot, leaving furnace guts
T dont front, never, clever rhymes just make you think deep
Past you comfort zone, blowing your high, may want to repeat priest
Peace be with you, if youre too set to change
Mind in chains, I got the key, are you willing to work to gain mane
[Hook]
[Verse 2]
You on the same thing, I forever move and shape the Earth
And you wonder why your own home, questioning your worth
Knowledge dispersed, first resistance then comes recognition
Like maybe Im doing something wrong, I probably should listen
Improve decisions, cant we think about a consequence
I see you living for the moment, knowing not the pain you lent
The time you spent, in selfish phases, in your mind in such dark places
Open your eyes to the light, cant you the hurt on their faces
Its vein to waste time, assigned to each of us
To teach enough to guide those looking forward towards what we discuss
The future must, hold a spot for me, I cant stop rising
It started slow but now my glow a kin to stars in sky, damn
Despite the ones who told me no, laughed in my face quick
To put me down, make me the clown, but now they stuck on faded
They say its my time, I agree, Ill be forever down

Below the ground, so profound and deep, you sink you shall drown
[Hook]
