Little Bo's Peep Show

Tim Moore

There's a decadent zookeeper who's been wearing glitter shoes He's got the apes and monkeys into heavy metal blues He's upset the status quo at Little Bo's Peep Show

I tell you, ma,
it's no longer just a zoo This yak in shades keeps showing up with powder from Peru and leaves from Mexico
at Little Bo's Peep Show

Now the walrus shaved his eyebrows and he's wearing silver pants and he's trying to get the camel all worked up for some romance The snakes'll all be slinkin' to dat funky disco groove the whole peaceable kingdom's being shot down the tubes

See the lion's mane?
-He dyed it pink and his new eyeshadow looks so sexy when he blinks at the water buffalo
at Little Bo's Peep Show

Aw the lizard's wearing lipstick and she's dressing to provoke and the anteater is popular with all the lady folk

The hyena's sounding more like Capote when he laughs

They've got Linda Lovelace in and she's coachin' our giraffe

Aw the polecat's drunk and the whale's in heat They got six-inch purple platforms on the alligator's feet There ain't no pianissimo
at Little Bo's Peep Show Aw, but my mom won't let me go to Little Bo's Peep Show

Lyrics Submitted by Richard Gagnon

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/