When You Were Mine

Janet Devlin

Tell me words of any kind
Help me 'cause I think I'm going blind
All the bridges have burned
And the pages been turned
There's nothing you can say
Or do, 'cause I'm not over youOh I remember how it felt to call you mine
All mine, I remember how we lost the world outside
The times we had, the good and bad
And how we felt alive
Oh I remember how it felt to call you mineTell me why my heart is open wide
Oh there's nothing left to hide
Do the flames still burn
Leave no stone unturned
Just flicker deep inside
Of you, and tell me what to doOh I remember how it felt to call you mine
All mine, yes I remember how we lost the world outside
The times we had, the good and bad
And how we felt alive
Oh I remember how it felt to call you mineAnd it's time
And I can hear your heart
And everything is cold
And I'm a little lost insideOh I remember how it felt to call you mine
All mine, I remember how we lost the world outside
The times we had, the good and bad
And how we felt alive
Oh I remember how it felt to call you mineOh oh oh I remember how we lost the world outside
The times we had, the good and bad
And how we felt alive
Oh I remember how it felt you call you mine
