

Sorcerers

Angel Witch

Lost in the twilight, we sail for the moon
And stars light our way, upon the horizon
Crazed by the stars, so eager to stray
If we should come there tonight, say would they stay
Now we're bound for ground patrol
When we were meant to find them all
Sorcerers
We sail for the sun, and the twinkling ones
How careless they play, must be the season
Dazed by the starlight, to find us a reason we go
And if we should come there tonight, say would we know
Now we're bound for ground patrol
When we were meant to know them all
Sorcerers
Now we're bound for ground patrol
When we were meant to lose control
Sorcerers
