

Terry's Song

Brian Marquis

Well they built the Titanic to be one of a kind, but many ships have ruled the seas
They built the Eiffel Tower to stand alone, but they could build another if they please Taj Mahal, the pyramids of Egypt, are unique I suppose

But when they built you, brother, they broke the moldNow the world is filled with many wonders under the passing sun

And sometimes something comes along and you know it's for sure the only one
The Mona Lisa, the David, the Sistine Chapel, Jesus, Mary, and Joe

And when they built you, brother, they broke the moldWhen they built you, brother, they turned dust into gold
When they built you, brother, they broke the moldThey say you can't take it with you, but I think that they're wrong

'Cause all I know is I woke up this morning, and something big was gone Gone into that dark ether where you're still young and hard and cold

Just like when they built you, brother, they broke the mold[harmonica bridge]Now your death is upon us and we'll return your ashes to the earth

And I know you'll take comfort in knowing you've been roundly blessed and cursed But love is a power greater than death, just like the songs and stories told

And when she built you, brother, she broke the moldThat attitude's a power stronger than death, alive and burning her stone cold

When they built you, brother[harmonica bridge]
