Insecurity

Scars on 45

Here I sit
The world upon my shoulder
Think I'd cry without
A love to keep me warmAnd I'm sure
The faithfulness grows older
I'm as useful
As a broken man's rewardAnd so I wait
And never see
How someone
So desired could fall for meWell, it's just one kiss
And it'll all crash down
Ignorance is bliss
In this cold and wet townIf I could bring myself
To venture through
This bold and bruised door
Well, I might make it
Yeah, I might make itAnd so I try
With all upon my shoulder
With a single glance
She cuts me to the boneAnd I stand
Regret the things I told her
Because the years can teach
You things days never knowAnd so I sit
And never see
How someone
So desired could fall for meWell, it's just one kiss
And it'll all crash down
Ignorance is bliss
In this cold and wet townIf I could bring myself
To venture through
This bold and bruised door
Well, I might make it
Yeah, I might make itYeah, I might make it
Yeah, I might make it
Yeah, I might make it
Yes, I might make itI don't want to leave
I don't want to stay
But you tear me up
With those insecure waysI don't want to leave

I don't want to stay
But you tear me up
With those insecure waysI don't want to leave
I don't want to stay
But you tear me up
With those insecure waysInsecure ways
Insecure ways
Insecure ways
