God In The Frame

Bleed The Sky

FireShow no serenity
For medicating thoughts of a real life
Beyond the ruins lies our victory, just out of reachForgotten savior
Nothing could purify your actions
Nothing to prove, nothing to prove
Betrayal left you out in the frame, the frameWe seem surprised at the nature of man
When all along, we were there to lend a helping hand
No more will I wake up feeling empty and dead
Make reason of your lies and carry you up insteadThe sole survivors
Will try to resurrect broken thoughts
Before the dream is complete
I see you sifting through the ashesI need more time
I ask of you nothing more than freedom
From your chains, my life will change
Into intuitive reasoningWe seem surprised at the nature of man
When all along, we were there to lend a helping hand
No more will I wake up feeling empty and dead
Make reason of your lies and carry you up insteadYou take too long to pray
You wait too long today
Too long today, too long today
Too long today, too longAs you wait for acceptance, acceptance
Your shit in life, you sellout all your pride
For the God in the frame
