

Tell the Mountain

The Collingsworth Family

In the foothills of sorrow, looking up from the valley of fear,
You can see doubt off in the distance, and you're about to lose heart right here!
But don't ever give in, don't ever give up!
God is with you, and you'll overcome! The mountain will tell you, that you can't make it over!
It will try to convince you, that it's way too high!
Though you feel defeated, know that God keeps His promise!
So you tell the mountain just how big your God is! Just try to remember, all the trials He's brought you through!
And when His power, gave you strength for the journey, the very hour you needed it to!
So don't be discouraged, 'cause time after time,
God's never failed you!
Go on and climb! The mountain will tell you that you can't make it over!
It will try to convince you that it's way too high!
Though you feel defeated, know that God keeps His promise!
So you tell the mountain just how big your God is! Though you feel defeated, know that God keeps His promise!
So you tell the mountain just how big your God is!
So you tell the mountain just how big your God is!
Just how big your God is!
