

Plastic People

Atomship

Time entails the sun to hesitate
Clinging on and off again
Picture all the children as they walk on by
Clean into the front yard Falling in and out of sync
With him in the ground, I see
Promises I have broken
Shadows creep along the window The window sill, drowned by the rain
Swallow the pill, it kills the pain Freeze frame, capture it
The stars fell from the sky
In my hands they pulsate And to the night they're shattered on the front line
The Devil knows where they hide
Into the ground he passes by and the [Incomprehensible] dies
Before I, before I make it home The window sill, drowned by the rain
Swallow that pill, kills the pain Plastic people, paper skies
Plastic people, paper skies
Plastic people, paper skies To my hands they pulsate
In my hands they pulsate
In my hands they pulsate
In my hands The window sill, drowned by the rain
Swallow that pill, it kills the pain
The window sill, drowned by the rain
Swallow down the pill, it kills the pain Plastic people, paper skies
Plastic people, paper skies
Plastic people, paper skies
