

Close Your Eyes

Bebel Gilberto

(Lyrics by Dinho Ouro Preto, Bebel Gilberto, Bco Dranoff) You know you can feel the breeze with patience of a lifetime

Dance above the trees to the rhythm in your mind

Gently touching your skin inside out

Floating on the seas, it carries me around You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone Penso em voc, sinto um gosto de mar

Nos gros de areia, e eu a rolar

Vou rodar o mundo , mas aqui o meu lugar

Eu vou rodar o mundo mas aqui o meu lugar (Translation:

Thinking about you, I feel the taste of the sea

In the sand grains, I am rolling

Gonna go around the world, but here is my place

I'll go around the world, but here is my place) You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone Since the day I left, from the start

I can feel megabytes of memories in my heart

Wish I disappear and wake up in some other place

Where there's no pain or fear, is simple like 'Hello' You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

You can close your eyes and never be alone

SAMBA OF THE BLESSING

(Literal translation by Bco Dranoff)

It's better to be happy than sad

Happiness is the best thing there is

It is like a light in the heart

But to make a samba with beauty

It's needed a bit of sadness

If not the samba can't be made To make a samba is not like telling a joke

And who makes samba like this is worth nothing

The good samba is a kind of prayer

Because samba is the sadness that sways

And sadness is always hopeful

Of one day not being sad any more Put a little love in the cadence

And you'll see that in this world nobody wins

The beauty that a samba have

Because samba was born in Bahia
And if today it is white in it's poetry
It is very black in it's heart
