Always Sayin'

The Littlest Man Band

There's not a lot of difference between a foxhole, and a Grave.
And knowing that you dug your ditch and climbed in anyway,
Touch gloves, take you corners, and come out fighting when the bell rings.
Ya' don't get more points for all your suffering-ea-yeah!

So ya' close your eyes and dreamed your heart to a safer place
And smiled for a while with your brand new style and a change of pace.
What a beautiful cover, a talk show makeover, and you'll lose some weight.
But if ya' wanna get well then why the hell do you Hesitate?

Listen to yourself the king of hypocrites
Who do you think you are you ain't foolin' shit
But if you keep preachin' then ya' just might believe it!

You're Always Sayin' that It's all goin' better.
Well I've seen you, and it needs to.
God I hope that It's all goin' better for you.
And you say that it tastes so much sweeter,
Well I've been there, and its bitter!
God I wish, that I could feel sorry for you! Ohh

A few bridges were burned while your backs been turned, but hey thatâ€™s life.
Yaâ€™ gettinâ€™ used to the sickly thick fog of indifference and you think thatâ€™s all right.
You donâ€™t need nobody, to hold your hand.
You donâ€™t need nobody, youâ€™re the littlest man.
â€˜Cuz you donâ€™t trust anybody.

Thereâ€™s still a withered soul thatâ€™s now filled to the brim with speeches you repeat
That mean a lot to you but not enough to get your ass off the floor and do it!

You're Always Sayin' that It's all goin' better.
Well I've seen you, and it needs to.
God I hope that It's all goin' better for you.
And you say that it tastes so much sweeter,
Well I've been there, and its bitter!
God I wish, that I could feel sorry for you! Ohhoo

[Guitar Solo]

You're Always Sayin' that It's all goin' better.

Well I've seen you, and it needs to.
God I hope that It's all goin' better for you.
And you say that it tastes so much sweeter,
Well I've been there, and its bitter!
God I wish, that I could feel sorry for you! Ohhhooh
God I wish, that I could feel sorry for you ohhoooo hooooahoh!
