Dying Creed

Bolt Thrower

Fallen are the people of the decaying race
Now proclaim the legacy inherited too late, too lateMankind, the dying creed, reared on ignorance and greed
On suffering we feed, devouring all beyond our needsA path of self-destruction they cannot see
Regarding only their interest in profitability, they cannot seeOpen up your might before it's too late
Unlock the chains of confinement that we createGrasping all you can, overloaded capacity
And nothing can conceal instinctive rapacityA movement to disaster, could this be the final plan?
Blinded by our avarice the closing chapter, extinction of manMankind, the dying creed, reared on ignorance and greed
On suffering we feed, devouring all beyond our needs

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/