

Transfixion

Meshuggah

Trapped in a gaze where time stand still
Connected to a blur sensations deformed
We are to drown just to become
Another set of eyes among the millions Enchanted we fade selecting illusion's
Dwellers of the scene a new world obsessed
Gods of displays divine screen's
Radiate us now your blessing Down kneel to shields of glass to the sovereign
Bleed for the entity of wavelength's Transfixed yet eyes glowing with delight
Delusions of omniscience bred us my liars
Mentally drained by the growing leech
Fed on our manic desire Oceans of sewage continual Washing into our minds
Drowning in wasted integrity
With eyes too open to see vanity Engulfed in super fiction fields
What are we?
When the false pictures dissolve Caged within a twilight world
Devoid of own self made thoughts
Stare blind stare blind
Stare blind stare blind
