

Throw Me a Rope

KT Tunstall

I want you between me and the feeling I get when I miss you
But everything here is telling me I should be fine
So why is it so, it bothers below that I'm missing you every time? I got used to you whispering things to me into the evening
We followed the sun as its colors left this world
It seems to me that I'm definitely hearing the best that I've heard So throw me a rope to hold me in place
Show me a clock for counting my days down
'Cause everything's easier when you're beside me
Come back and find me 'cause I feel alone And whenever you go it's like holding my breath under water
I have to admit that I kinda like it when I do
Oh, but I got to be unconditionally unafraid of my days without you So throw me a rope to hold me in place
Show me a clock for counting my days down
'Cause everything's easier when you're beside me
Come back and find me Whenever I'm falling, you're always behind me
Come back and find me
'Cause everything's easier when you're beside me
Come back and find me 'cause I feel alone
