Imperfections

Ashylus

See these signs on my face
Count the scars of my mistakes,
Praying I need saving.

Second chances came and went
Money made was money spent.
Impatient, plain desperation.
Though I repent of every sin
Though religions listen in.
I feel ashamed that I'm to blame

Found my way in go of troubles untold,
The world on my shoulders, Oh
For all my imperfections I've got you
You're all that stands between me and a fool
I'm a little bit wiser
And a little bit stronger
That's why, We shine

Getting time, Walking back to our fair lines
Was getting passed,
Frustrated, need something sacred, oh
This day will bring,
The choice to make, "Crayzings"? to miscalculate
My courage is suffocating
I may have cheated, may have lied
But I'm just trying to survive
I feel afraid, are you the same?

Found my way in go of troubles untold,
The world on my shoulders, Oh
For all my imperfections I've got you
You're all that stands between me and a fool
I'm a little bit wiser
And a little bit stronger
That's why, We shine (Tell ya truthfully)

For all imperfections you know me,
I see in your reflection who to be
I get a little bit older,

I glow a little bit brighter. (That's why we shine)

I may have cheated, may have lied,
But I'm just trying to survive,
I feel afraid, are you the same?

Found my way in go, of troubles untold,
The world on my shoulders, oh
For all my imperfections I've got you,
You're all that stands between me and a fool
I get a little bit wiser, and a little bit stronger. (Tell ya truthfully)

For all my imperfections you know me,
I see in your reflection who to be
I get a little bit older,
I glow a little bit brighter, yea ya
I dream a little bit louder,
Oh I walk a little bit talled, beside ya.

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com
written by WOODCOCK, TIMOTHY DANIEL / PRIME, MATTHEW / OSHO, JOSH
Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/