Little Dreamer

Domini Forster

Wake up little dreamer
You've fallen asleep again
Wake up little dreamer,
There's no use in trying to pretend

Darling don't you see
That these stories only exist in your dreams
You cannot take them home when you leave
Darling watch our feet
Cause your stumbling
On each and every obstacle you meet
You are walking in your sleep

Watch out for the fever
That creeps up around your neck
Left tossing and turning
Your judgment is hazy at best
Take heed of the panic
That comes with the morning light
The shadows that kept you protected,
I left you faded away with the night

Darling don't you see
That these stories only exist in your dreams
You cannot take them home when you leave
Darling watch our feet
Cause your stumbling
On each and every obstacle you meet
You are walking in your sleep

And you whisper please
I'm asleep
I am dreaming
Don't wake me up
It is cold outside this bed

And you whisper please
I'm asleep
I am dreaming
Don't wake me up

It is cold outside this bed

Darling don't you see
That these stories only exist in your dreams
You cannot take them home when you leave
Darling watch our feet
Cause your stumbling
On each and every obstacle you meet
You are walking in your sleep
